Dear Marlin:

I know you have wondered many times if you would ever see your thesis again. It was a matter of my taking the time to read it as carefully as I wanted to before sending it back to you. That I have done in the last few days and am now returning it to you. Please accept my gratitude for your long suffering. It was extremely profitable to read this work, and I commend you for the time and study I know you gave to it.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk
